Cooking From a 25-Year Pantry

When people imagine eating from a long-term food supply, they usually picture the same thing: a flavorless survival ration, something to endure rather than enjoy. I spent the first part of my career in restaurant kitchens, and the first time I cooked through a 25-year pantry, I expected exactly that. I was wrong.

What follows are ten recipes I developed using nothing but what's in the Everstock 30-Day Supply — no fresh produce, no refrigerator, no trip to the store. Every dish leans on real technique: rehydrating freeze-dried meat and vegetables properly, building flavor from dried aromatics and broth powder the same way I would from fresh stock, and understanding that a pantry built for durability doesn't have to taste like one.

The philosophy is simple. Freeze-drying, done well, preserves flavor and nutrition far better than older preservation methods — this is why the core of this kit leans on freeze-dried meat, fish, dairy, and produce rather than the heavily processed substitutes that usually fill a long-term storage bucket. Whole grains milled fresh taste dramatically better than flour that's been sitting in a bag for years. And a well-stocked spice drawer is what actually separates ten different dinners from the same bowl of rice and beans, night after night.

I've organized this collection around a single pantry, one person, thirty days — the same math behind the kit itself. Each recipe tells you exactly how to bring these ingredients back to life: how long to soak, how much water, what to watch for. Cook them once as written, then start improvising. That's the real use of a pantry like this — not eating from it exactly as I've laid out, but learning it well enough to cook whatever you want.

Buttermilk-Style Pancakes

Reconstituted milk and egg powder whip up into a batter you'd never guess wasn't made with fresh dairy — the vinegar powder's tang against baking soda is what gives these their lift and a faint sourdough-like flavor.

SERVINGS

1 (about 3 pancakes)

ACTIVE TIME

15 min

TOTAL TIME

20 min

INGREDIENTS

90 g	fresh-milled wheat flour
15 g	non-fat dry milk powder
100 ml	water, for the milk
3 g	vinegar powder, mixed with a splash of water
2 g	baking soda
4 g	cream of tartar
1 pinch	salt
10 g	freeze-dried egg powder
30 ml	warm water, for the egg
10 g	butter powder, dissolved, plus more for the pan
15 g	honey, for serving

METHOD

- Reconstitute the milk
Whisk the milk powder into 100 ml water until fully dissolved and smooth. Set aside.
- Mix dry ingredients
In a bowl, whisk together the flour, baking soda, and cream of tartar.
- Reconstitute the egg
In a separate bowl, whisk the egg powder with 30 ml warm water until smooth with no lumps.
- Combine wet ingredients
Dissolve half the butter powder in a splash of hot water, then whisk it into the egg mixture along with the reconstituted milk and vinegar powder.
- Make the batter
Pour the wet mixture into the dry mixture and stir until just combined — small lumps are fine, don't overmix.
- Cook the pancakes
Melt the remaining butter powder in a skillet over medium heat. Pour batter into 3–4 rounds. Cook until bubbles form on top and the edges look set, about 3 minutes.
- Flip and finish
Flip and cook the second side until golden, about 1–2 minutes more.
- Serve
Stack and drizzle with honey.

CHEF'S TIP

Reconstituted-milk batters can seize slightly when the acid hits the baking soda — that fizzing is exactly what you want for lift.

Savory Broth Rice Congee

A slow, low simmer turns rice and broth powder into something closer to a hug than a meal — this is the dish I'd reach for on the hardest day of the thirty.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	10 min	50 min

INGREDIENTS

80 g	white rice
600 ml	water
10 g	broth powder
15 g	freeze-dried egg powder
30 ml	warm water, for the egg
5 g	soy sauce powder
5 g	freeze-dried onions
1 pinch	crushed red pepper

METHOD

- Start the congee
Rinse the rice and combine with the water and broth powder in a pot.
- Simmer low and slow
Bring to a boil, then reduce to the lowest simmer. Stir occasionally, about 45 minutes, until the rice breaks down into a thick, creamy porridge.
- Reconstitute the egg
While the congee simmers, whisk the egg powder with 30 ml warm water until smooth.
- Finish the congee
Stir the reconstituted egg and freeze-dried onions into the pot and simmer 5 minutes more.
- Season and serve
Stir in the soy sauce powder and top with crushed red pepper. Serve hot.

CHEF'S TIP

Congee thickens further as it cools — thin with a splash of hot water if reheating.

Mediterranean Chickpea & Tomato Stew

Patience is the only special equipment this recipe requires. Soak the chickpeas properly and the payoff is a stew that tastes like it simmered on someone's stove all afternoon.

1

ACTIVE TIME

15 min

TOTAL TIME

Overnight soak + 2 hr

INGREDIENTS

100 g	dried chickpeas
500 ml	water, for soaking/cooking
20 g	tomato powder
100 ml	water, for the tomato sauce
10 g	coconut oil powder
3 g	garlic powder
3 g	ground cumin
3 g	onion powder
2 g	salt
10 g	freeze-dried leafy greens

METHOD

- Soak the chickpeas
Soak the chickpeas in water at least 8 hours or overnight. (Quick option: boil 2 minutes, then let stand covered 1 hour.)
- Cook the chickpeas
Drain, cover with fresh water, bring to a boil, then reduce to a simmer until tender, about 90 minutes.
- Make the tomato base
Whisk the tomato powder into 100 ml water until smooth.
- Build the aromatics
Dissolve the coconut oil powder in a splash of hot water in a pan. Add garlic powder, cumin, and onion powder, and cook 1 minute until fragrant.
- Simmer the stew
Add the tomato base and cooked chickpeas to the pan. Simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.
- Wilt the greens
Stir in the freeze-dried leafy greens and cook 3 minutes until rehydrated and tender.
- Finish
Season with salt and serve.

CHEF'S TIP

Swap in lentils for a no-soak version if you're short on time — reduce the simmer to about 20 minutes.

Hearty Lentil Soup

No soaking, no fuss — lentils are the fastest real protein in this pantry, and this soup is proof you can have a genuinely good dinner on the table in under 40 minutes.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	10 min	40 min

INGREDIENTS

100 g	dried lentils
700 ml	water
15 g	broth powder
10 g	tomato powder
3 g	onion powder
1	bay leaf
1 pinch	black pepper
10 g	freeze-dried carrots

METHOD

- Combine and simmer
Rinse the lentils and combine in a pot with the water, broth powder, tomato powder, onion powder, and bay leaf. Bring to a boil, then reduce to a simmer for 30 minutes.
- Add the carrots
Stir in the freeze-dried carrots and continue simmering 8 minutes, until fully rehydrated and the lentils start to break down.
- Finish
Remove the bay leaf, season with black pepper, and serve.

CHEF'S TIP

Mash some of the lentils against the side of the pot near the end for a thicker, creamier texture without adding anything.

Pasta Marinara with Cheddar

Tomato powder rehydrates into a sauce with real body, and freeze-dried cheddar melts back into something close enough to fresh that you won't miss the block in your fridge.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	20 min

INGREDIENTS

100 g	dry pasta
1000 ml	water, for boiling
3 g	salt
25 g	tomato powder
150 ml	water, for the sauce
3 g	garlic powder
2 g	dried basil
2 g	dried oregano
10 g	butter powder
20 g	freeze-dried cheddar cheese

METHOD

- Cook the pasta
Bring the water to a boil with the salt. Add pasta and cook until al dente, about 9 minutes. Drain, reserving 50 ml pasta water.
- Make the sauce base
While the pasta cooks, whisk the tomato powder into 150 ml water until smooth.
- Build the sauce
Dissolve the butter powder in a splash of hot water in a pan. Add garlic powder, basil, and oregano, and cook 1 minute until fragrant.
- Simmer
Add the tomato base to the pan and simmer 8 minutes, stirring occasionally.
- Combine and serve
Toss the drained pasta into the sauce with a splash of reserved pasta water. Top with freeze-dried cheddar and let it soften 2 minutes before serving.

CHEF'S TIP

The reserved starchy pasta water helps the sauce cling to the pasta — don't skip it.

Ground Beef Chili

This is the dish that convinced me freeze-dried meat belonged in a serious kitchen, not just a bug-out bag. Give the beef its full ten minutes to rehydrate — rushing it is the only way to get this wrong.

1

ACTIVE TIME

20 min

TOTAL TIME

40 min (plus bean prep if using dried beans)

INGREDIENTS

60 g freeze-dried ground beef

150 ml warm water, for the beef

100 g dried black beans, soaked and cooked

20 g tomato powder

200 ml water, for the sauce

5 g chili powder

3 g ground cumin

3 g onion powder

2 g salt

METHOD

1 Rehydrate the beef

Combine the freeze-dried beef with the warm water and let stand, covered, 10 minutes until softened. Drain any excess liquid.

2 Prep the beans

If starting from dry, soak the beans overnight, then simmer in fresh water about 60 minutes until tender and drain. Pre-cooked beans can go straight in.

3 Make the chili base

Whisk the tomato powder into 200 ml water to form a sauce.

4 Combine and simmer

In a pot, combine the rehydrated beef, beans, tomato base, chili powder, cumin, and onion powder. Simmer 20 minutes, stirring occasionally, until thickened.

5 Finish

Season with salt and serve.

CHEF'S TIP

Short on time? Swap the black beans for lentils — no overnight soak needed, just simmer 20 minutes.

Red Lentil Dal

Spiced, comforting, and ready faster than delivery — dal was always going to be one of the best arguments for keeping a good curry powder in long-term storage.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	15 min	35 min

INGREDIENTS

80 g	white rice
160 ml	water, for the rice
100 g	dried lentils
500 ml	water, for the lentils
6 g	curry powder
3 g	onion powder
3 g	garlic powder
10 g	coconut oil powder
2 g	salt

METHOD

- Cook the rice
Combine rice and 160 ml water in a pot. Bring to a boil, cover, and reduce to a simmer for 18 minutes.
- Rest the rice
Remove from heat and let stand, covered, 5 minutes.
- Cook the lentils
Meanwhile, rinse the lentils and combine with 500 ml water in a separate pot. Bring to a boil, then reduce to a simmer 20 minutes, until soft and starting to break down.
- Spice the dal
Dissolve the coconut oil powder in a splash of hot water and stir into the lentils along with curry powder, onion powder, and garlic powder.
- Thicken
Simmer 10 minutes more, stirring, until the dal reaches a thick, stew-like consistency.
- Serve
Season with salt and ladle the dal over the rice.

CHEF'S TIP

Dal keeps well and tastes even better the next day once the spices settle in.

Vegetable Fried Rice

The trick to good fried rice has never changed, storage pantry or not: cold rice, hot pan, don't crowd it.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	20 min (plus cooling the rice)

INGREDIENTS

150 g	white rice, cooked and cooled
15 g	freeze-dried egg powder
30 ml	warm water, for the egg
10 g	freeze-dried peas
10 g	freeze-dried carrots
8 g	freeze-dried onions
100 ml	warm water, for the vegetables
8 g	soy sauce powder
30 ml	water, to dissolve the soy sauce powder
10 g	butter powder or coconut oil powder

METHOD

- Rehydrate the vegetables
Combine the peas, carrots, and onions in 100 ml warm water and let sit 10 minutes until softened. Drain.
- Reconstitute the egg
Whisk the egg powder with 30 ml warm water until smooth.
- Scramble the egg
Melt half the butter/coconut oil powder in a hot pan or wok. Pour in the egg and scramble until just set, about 2 minutes. Remove and set aside.
- Stir-fry the vegetables
Add the remaining fat to the pan with the drained vegetables. Stir-fry 3 minutes.
- Add the rice
Add the rice, breaking up any clumps, and stir-fry 4 minutes until heated through.
- Finish
Return the scrambled egg to the pan. Dissolve the soy sauce powder in 30 ml water and pour over everything, tossing to combine.

CHEF'S TIP

Day-old (or deliberately cooled) rice fries up much better than fresh-cooked — the grains stay separate instead of clumping.

Skillet Cornbread

Milling the corn fresh right before baking makes a difference you can taste in the first bite — this is not the same as pre-ground cornmeal that's been sitting around.

1

ACTIVE TIME

15 min

TOTAL TIME

35 min

100 g	fresh-milled cornmeal
50 g	fresh-milled wheat flour
3 g	baking soda
6 g	cream of tartar
2 g	salt
10 g	freeze-dried egg powder
20 g	non-fat dry milk powder
180 ml	water
15 g	butter powder
15 g	honey

METHOD

1 Preheat

Preheat the oven (or a covered skillet over low-medium heat) to 400°F / 200°C. Grease the pan with a little dissolved butter powder.

2 Reconstitute the milk

Whisk the milk powder into 180 ml water until smooth.

3 Mix dry ingredients

In a bowl, combine the cornmeal, flour, baking soda, cream of tartar, and salt.

4 Mix wet ingredients

Whisk the egg powder with a splash of warm water until smooth, then whisk in the reconstituted milk, honey, and the remaining dissolved butter powder.

5 Combine

Pour the wet mixture into the dry and stir until just combined.

6 Bake

Pour the batter into the prepared pan. Bake 20 minutes, until golden on top and a toothpick comes out clean.

7 Cool and slice

Let cool 5 minutes before slicing.

CHEF'S TIP

Milling the corn and wheat fresh right before baking gives noticeably better flavor and rise than pre-ground meal that's been stored a while.

Creamy Cod Chowder

Gentle heat is the only technique that matters here. Rushed, reconstituted milk breaks; patient, it makes a chowder rich enough to forget where the fish came from.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	25 min

60 g	freeze-dried cod
150 ml	warm water, for the fish
10 g	freeze-dried onions
10 g	freeze-dried carrots
100 ml	warm water, for the vegetables
30 g	non-fat dry milk powder
250 ml	water, for the milk
15 g	butter powder
8 g	broth powder
1 pinch	black pepper
2 g	salt

METHOD

- Rehydrate the cod
Combine the cod with 150 ml warm water and let stand, covered, 10 minutes. Flake into bite-sized pieces once softened.
- Rehydrate the vegetables
At the same time, combine onions and carrots with 100 ml warm water in a separate bowl and let sit 10 minutes until softened.
- Reconstitute the milk
Whisk the milk powder into 250 ml water until smooth.
- Build the base
In a pot, dissolve the butter powder and broth powder in a splash of hot water. Add the drained vegetables and cook 3 minutes.
- Add milk and fish
Pour in the reconstituted milk and add the flaked cod. Bring to a gentle simmer — don't let it boil hard — for 8 minutes.
- Finish
Season with black pepper and salt, and serve hot.

CHEF'S TIP

Keep the heat gentle once the milk goes in — a hard boil is the main way reconstituted milk-based soups curdle or scorch.

Cinnamon Apple Oatmeal

Freeze-dried apple pieces soften right in the pot, so you get real fruit texture without ever opening a fridge.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	8 min	12 min

INGREDIENTS

70 g	rolled oats
250 ml	water
20 g	freeze-dried apples
2 g	cinnamon
15 g	non-fat dry milk powder
15 g	honey

METHOD

- Cook the oats
Combine oats, water, and cinnamon in a pot. Bring to a boil, then simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally.
- Add fruit and milk
Stir in the freeze-dried apples and milk powder. Let sit off-heat 3 minutes to soften the fruit and thicken.
- Serve
Drizzle with honey and serve warm.

CHEF'S TIP

Crush the freeze-dried apple pieces slightly between your fingers before adding — smaller pieces rehydrate faster and more evenly.

Peanut Butter Banana Oatmeal

Powdered peanut butter loosens into a real peanut butter swirl once it meets warm oats — this tastes far richer than the ingredient list suggests.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	8 min	12 min

INGREDIENTS

70 g	rolled oats
250 ml	water
20 g	powdered peanut butter
15 ml	water, to loosen the peanut butter
20 g	freeze-dried bananas
10 g	honey

METHOD

- Cook the oats
Combine oats and water in a pot. Bring to a boil, then simmer 5 minutes.
- Loosen the peanut butter
Whisk the powdered peanut butter with 15 ml water until it forms a smooth paste.
- Combine
Stir the peanut butter paste and freeze-dried bananas into the oats. Let sit 3 minutes.
- Serve
Drizzle with honey and serve.

CHEF'S TIP

Stir the peanut butter paste in at the end, off heat — direct simmering can make defatted peanut butter taste chalky.

Mixed Berry Breakfast Porridge

Two freeze-dried berries instead of one gives this porridge a real jammy, tart-sweet balance rather than one-note sweetness.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	8 min	12 min

INGREDIENTS

70 g	rolled oats
220 ml	water
20 g	non-fat dry milk powder
15 g	freeze-dried strawberries
15 g	freeze-dried blueberries
15 g	honey

METHOD

- Cook the oats
Combine oats and water in a pot. Bring to a boil, then simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally.
- Add milk and berries
Stir in the milk powder, strawberries, and blueberries. Let sit off-heat 3 minutes so the berries soften.
- Serve
Drizzle with honey and serve warm.

CHEF'S TIP

Save a few whole berries to scatter on top rather than stirring everything in — it gives the bowl some texture contrast.

Savory Chicken & Egg Breakfast Hash

A savory, protein-forward start to the day when you want something more substantial than a bowl of oats.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	20 min

INGREDIENTS

40 g	freeze-dried chicken breast
100 ml	warm water, for the chicken
15 g	freeze-dried egg powder
30 ml	warm water, for the egg
10 g	freeze-dried onions
10 g	freeze-dried bell peppers
80 ml	warm water, for the vegetables
10 g	butter powder
1 pinch	salt
1 pinch	black pepper

METHOD

- Rehydrate the chicken
Combine chicken with 100 ml warm water, let stand covered 10 minutes, then drain and chop.
- Rehydrate the vegetables
At the same time, combine onions and bell peppers with 80 ml warm water and let sit 10 minutes. Drain.
- Reconstitute the egg
Whisk the egg powder with 30 ml warm water until smooth.
- Cook the hash
Melt the butter powder in a skillet. Add the vegetables and chicken, cook 3 minutes. Pour in the egg and scramble everything together until just set, about 2 minutes.
- Finish
Season with salt and pepper, and serve hot.

CHEF'S TIP

Chop the rehydrated chicken small — it distributes through the scramble much more evenly than large pieces.

SOUPS & STEWS

Chicken & Rice Soup

The closest thing in this pantry to classic chicken soup — simple, restorative, and forgiving if you let it simmer a little longer than planned.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	15 min	35 min

INGREDIENTS

50 g	freeze-dried chicken breast
120 ml	warm water, for the chicken
60 g	white rice
700 ml	water
12 g	broth powder
15 g	freeze-dried carrots
10 g	freeze-dried onions
1	bay leaf
1 pinch	black pepper

METHOD

- 1

Rehydrate the chicken

Combine chicken with 120 ml warm water, let stand covered 10 minutes, then drain.
- 2

Start the soup

Combine rice, water, broth powder, and bay leaf in a pot. Bring to a boil, then simmer 15 minutes.
- 3

Add chicken and vegetables

Stir in the rehydrated chicken, carrots, and onions. Simmer 10 minutes more.
- 4

Finish

Remove the bay leaf, season with black pepper, and serve.

CHEF'S TIP

This soup thickens as it sits — thin with a splash of hot water if you're reheating leftovers.

Salmon & Corn Chowder

A lighter cousin of the cod chowder — sweet corn against rich salmon is a pairing that never needed a coastline to work.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	25 min

INGREDIENTS

50 g	freeze-dried salmon
130 ml	warm water, for the salmon
20 g	freeze-dried sweet corn
10 g	freeze-dried onions
100 ml	warm water, for the vegetables
30 g	non-fat dry milk powder
250 ml	water, for the milk
15 g	butter powder
8 g	broth powder
1 pinch	black pepper

METHOD

- Rehydrate the salmon
Combine salmon with 130 ml warm water, let stand covered 10 minutes, then flake.
- Rehydrate the vegetables
Combine corn and onions with 100 ml warm water and let sit 10 minutes. Drain.
- Reconstitute the milk
Whisk milk powder into 250 ml water until smooth.
- Build the base
Dissolve butter powder and broth powder in a splash of hot water in a pot. Add the corn and onions, cook 3 minutes.
- Add milk and fish
Pour in the reconstituted milk and add the flaked salmon. Bring to a gentle simmer for 8 minutes — don't let it boil hard.
- Finish
Season with black pepper and serve hot.

CHEF'S TIP

Salmon is naturally fattier than cod, so this chowder is a little richer — a good one to save for a colder night.

Black Bean Soup

Smoky, thick, and better the longer it sits — mash some of the beans yourself instead of pureeing for a rustic, spoon-coats-the-back texture.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	15 min	25 min (plus bean prep)

INGREDIENTS

150 g	dried black beans, soaked and cooked
15 g	tomato powder
400 ml	water
3 g	ground cumin
3 g	onion powder
3 g	garlic powder
2 g	salt
1 pinch	crushed red pepper

METHOD

- 1

Make the base
Whisk the tomato powder into the water until smooth.
- 2

Simmer
Combine with the cooked beans, cumin, onion powder, and garlic powder in a pot. Simmer 20 minutes, mashing some beans against the side of the pot for a thicker texture.
- 3

Finish
Season with salt and crushed red pepper, and serve.

CHEF'S TIP

A spoonful of freeze-dried cheddar stirred in right before serving turns this from a soup into a meal.

Vegetable Minestrone

This is the recipe that uses the widest spread of the pantry at once — pasta, beans, and three different freeze-dried vegetables in one pot.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	15 min	20 min

INGREDIENTS

60 g	small pasta shape
80 g	chickpeas, cooked
20 g	tomato powder
600 ml	water
10 g	freeze-dried carrots
10 g	freeze-dried onions
10 g	freeze-dried bell peppers
3 g	dried basil
3 g	dried oregano
3 g	garlic powder
2 g	salt

METHOD

- 1

Build the base
Whisk the tomato powder into the water in a pot. Stir in garlic powder, basil, and oregano, and bring to a simmer.
- 2

Cook the pasta
Add the pasta and cook 8 minutes.
- 3

Add the rest
Stir in the chickpeas, carrots, onions, and bell peppers. Simmer 6 minutes more, until the pasta is tender and the vegetables are rehydrated.
- 4

Finish
Season with salt and serve.

CHEF'S TIP
Any small pasta shape works better here than long noodles — easier to fit on a spoon alongside the vegetables.

Chicken Curry

Coconut oil powder stands in for coconut milk here, and it works better than you'd expect once it's dissolved into the sauce.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	30 min

INGREDIENTS

60 g freeze-dried chicken breast

150 ml warm water, for the chicken

6 g curry powder

3 g onion powder

3 g garlic powder

12 g coconut oil powder

100 ml water, for the sauce

80 g white rice

160 ml water, for the rice

METHOD

1 Rehydrate the chicken

Combine chicken with 150 ml warm water, let stand covered 10 minutes, then drain.

2 Cook the rice

Combine rice and 160 ml water in a pot. Bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 18 minutes, then rest 5 minutes off heat.

3 Build the curry sauce

Dissolve the coconut oil powder in 100 ml hot water in a pan. Stir in curry powder, onion powder, and garlic powder, and cook 1 minute until fragrant.

4 Simmer

Add the chicken to the pan and simmer 10 minutes in the spiced sauce.

5 Serve

Spoon the curry over the rice.

CHEF'S TIP

If the sauce looks thin, let it simmer uncovered a few extra minutes — it thickens quickly once the chicken releases a bit of moisture.

Salmon & Vegetable Rice Bowl

A clean, fast bowl that leans on the soy sauce powder for most of its flavor — good for a night when chili and curry both feel like too much.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	20 min

INGREDIENTS

60 g	freeze-dried salmon
150 ml	warm water, for the salmon
80 g	white rice
160 ml	water, for the rice
10 g	freeze-dried peas
10 g	freeze-dried carrots
80 ml	warm water, for the vegetables
6 g	soy sauce powder
20 ml	water, to dissolve the soy sauce powder

METHOD

- Rehydrate the salmon
Combine salmon with 150 ml warm water, let stand covered 10 minutes, then flake.
- Cook the rice
Combine rice and 160 ml water in a pot. Bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 18 minutes, then rest 5 minutes.
- Rehydrate the vegetables
Combine peas and carrots with 80 ml warm water and let sit 10 minutes. Drain.
- Assemble
Combine rice, salmon, and vegetables in a bowl. Dissolve the soy sauce powder in 20 ml water, drizzle over, and toss.

CHEF'S TIP

Flake the salmon while it's still warm from rehydrating — it pulls apart much more easily than once it cools.

Beef & Bean Burritos

Fresh-milled tortillas made to order beat anything that's been sitting in a package for weeks — this is worth the extra ten minutes.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	30 min	30 min

INGREDIENTS

60 g	freeze-dried ground beef
150 ml	warm water, for the beef
80 g	black beans, cooked
10 g	tomato powder
50 ml	water, for the sauce
4 g	chili powder
3 g	ground cumin
100 g	fresh-milled wheat flour
60 ml	water, for the dough
1 pinch	salt, for the dough
15 g	freeze-dried cheddar cheese

METHOD

1 Make the tortilla dough

Combine flour, a pinch of salt, and enough water to form a soft dough. Rest 10 minutes, then divide into 2–3 pieces and roll thin.

2 Cook the tortillas

Cook each tortilla in a dry, hot skillet about 1 minute per side, until lightly browned in spots.

3 Rehydrate the beef

Combine beef with 150 ml warm water, let stand covered 10 minutes, then drain.

4 Make the filling

Whisk tomato powder into 50 ml water. Combine with the beef, beans, chili powder, and cumin in a pan. Simmer 10 minutes.

5 Assemble

Fill the tortillas with the beef and bean mixture, top with freeze-dried cheddar, fold, and serve.

CHEF'S TIP

Let the tortilla dough rest the full 10 minutes — skipping this makes the dough spring back and hard to roll thin.

Mac and “Cheese”

Nutritional yeast is doing the heavy lifting here, with freeze-dried cheddar rounding it out — a genuinely good bowl of mac and cheese from two shelf-stable powders.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	20 min

INGREDIENTS

100 g	dry pasta
1000 ml	water, for boiling
3 g	salt
30 g	non-fat dry milk powder
150 ml	water, for the milk
15 g	nutritional yeast
15 g	butter powder
15 g	freeze-dried cheddar cheese
1 pinch	black pepper

METHOD

- Cook the pasta
Bring the water to a boil with the salt. Cook pasta until al dente, about 9 minutes. Drain, reserving 50 ml pasta water.
- Reconstitute the milk
Whisk milk powder into 150 ml water until smooth.
- Make the sauce
Melt the butter powder in a saucepan. Whisk in the milk, nutritional yeast, and cheddar until smooth, adding reserved pasta water as needed to loosen.
- Combine
Toss the pasta in the sauce. Season with black pepper and serve.

CHEF'S TIP

Add the nutritional yeast off the heat if the sauce looks like it's about to boil — it can taste bitter if it scorches.

Chickpea Coconut Curry

A vegetarian curry with real body — the coconut oil powder and tomato powder together build a sauce that clings to the chickpeas properly.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	25 min

INGREDIENTS

150 g chickpeas, cooked

6 g curry powder

12 g coconut oil powder

15 g tomato powder

200 ml water

3 g onion powder

3 g garlic powder

80 g white rice

160 ml water, for the rice

METHOD

1 Cook the rice

Combine rice and 160 ml water in a pot. Bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 18 minutes, then rest 5 minutes.

2 Build the sauce

Dissolve the coconut oil powder in a splash of hot water in a pan. Add curry powder, onion powder, and garlic powder, and cook 1 minute.

3 Simmer

Whisk the tomato powder into 200 ml water and add to the pan along with the chickpeas. Simmer 15 minutes.

4 Serve

Spoon the curry over the rice.

CHEF'S TIP

This curry thickens quickly once it starts simmering — add a splash more water if it looks too thick before the chickpeas are fully warmed through.

Beef Stroganoff-Style Pasta

No fresh mushrooms or sour cream, but nutritional yeast and reconstituted milk get surprisingly close to the flavor this dish is known for.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	20 min	25 min

INGREDIENTS

60 g	freeze-dried ground beef
150 ml	warm water, for the beef
100 g	dry pasta
1000 ml	water, for boiling
3 g	salt
25 g	non-fat dry milk powder
150 ml	water, for the milk
10 g	nutritional yeast
3 g	onion powder
10 g	butter powder
1 pinch	black pepper

METHOD

- Rehydrate the beef
Combine beef with 150 ml warm water, let stand covered 10 minutes, then drain.
- Cook the pasta
Bring the water to a boil with the salt. Cook pasta until al dente, about 9 minutes, then drain.
- Make the sauce
Reconstitute the milk powder in 150 ml water, then whisk in the nutritional yeast and onion powder.
- Combine
Melt the butter powder in a pan, add the beef, then pour in the milk mixture. Simmer gently 8 minutes — don't let it boil hard — until slightly thickened.
- Finish
Toss with the pasta, season with black pepper, and serve.

CHEF'S TIP

Keep this at a bare simmer once the milk goes in, exactly like the chowders — the same rule about not boiling reconstituted milk applies here.

Sweet & Sour Chicken

Sugar and vinegar powder rebuild the sweet-sour balance from scratch — brighter and less gloopy than the takeout version it's modeled on.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	25 min	30 min

INGREDIENTS

60 g	freeze-dried chicken breast
150 ml	warm water, for the chicken
15 g	freeze-dried bell peppers
80 ml	warm water, for the peppers
15 g	tomato powder
100 ml	water, for the sauce
15 g	sugar
5 g	vinegar powder, mixed with a little water
5 g	soy sauce powder
80 g	white rice
160 ml	water, for the rice

METHOD

1 Rehydrate

Combine chicken with 150 ml warm water and bell peppers with 80 ml warm water in separate bowls. Let stand covered 10 minutes, then drain both.

2 Cook the rice

Combine rice and 160 ml water in a pot. Bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 18 minutes, then rest 5 minutes.

3 Make the sauce

Whisk the tomato powder into 100 ml water. Stir in the sugar, dissolved vinegar powder, and soy sauce powder.

4 Combine and simmer

Combine the chicken, bell peppers, and sauce in a pan. Simmer 8 minutes until slightly thickened.

5 Serve

Spoon over the rice.

CHEF'S TIP

Taste the sauce before adding the chicken — it's easy to nudge the sugar or vinegar powder up slightly to taste at this stage.

Basic Sourdough Bread

The one recipe in this book that asks for patience measured in days, not minutes — and the only bread in the pantry that doesn't depend on commercial yeast at all.

SERVINGS

1 loaf

ACTIVE TIME

25 min

TOTAL TIME

3–5 days to revive starter, plus 6–8 hours

INGREDIENTS

1	dehydrated sourdough starter packet, revived (see chef's tip)
300 g	fresh-milled wheat flour
180 ml	water
5 g	salt

METHOD

- Revive the starter
Rehydrate the dehydrated starter per its instructions, then feed daily with equal parts flour and water for 3–5 days until it's reliably bubbly and doubles within a few hours of feeding.
- Mix the dough
Combine the active starter, flour, water, and salt into a shaggy dough.
- Knead
Knead on a floured surface until smooth and elastic, about 8 minutes.
- Bulk rise
Cover and let rise in a warm spot until roughly doubled, 4–6 hours.
- Shape and proof
Shape into a round loaf and let proof 30–45 minutes.
- Bake
Bake in a preheated covered pot at 450°F/230°C for 20 minutes covered, then 20 minutes uncovered, until deeply golden and it sounds hollow when tapped.
- Cool
Cool completely, at least 1 hour, before slicing — it's still cooking internally when it comes out of the oven.

CHEF'S TIP

Don't skip reviving the starter properly — a sluggish starter is the single most common reason sourdough doesn't rise. Wait for it to double reliably before you bake with it.

Honey Oat Dinner Rolls

No yeast, no wait — these lean on the same baking soda and cream of tartar combination as the cornbread, but with oats folded in for texture.

SERVINGS1 batch (about 6 rolls)*ACTIVE TIME*15 min*TOTAL TIME*35 min*INGREDIENTS

200 g	fresh-milled wheat flour
50 g	rolled oats, plus extra for topping
20 g	honey
20 g	non-fat dry milk powder
150 ml	water
4 g	baking soda
8 g	cream of tartar
3 g	salt
15 g	butter powder

METHOD

- 1 Reconstitute the milk
Whisk the milk powder into the water until smooth.
- 2 Mix dry ingredients
Combine flour, oats, baking soda, cream of tartar, and salt in a bowl.
- 3 Combine
Stir in the milk, honey, and dissolved butter powder to form a soft dough.
- 4 Shape
Divide into 6 rolls, top with a few extra oats, and place on a baking sheet.
- 5 Bake
Bake at 375°F/190°C for 18–20 minutes until golden.

CHEF'S TIP

Don't overwork the dough once the wet and dry ingredients meet — a few gentle folds is enough, the same rule as biscuits.

Apple Cinnamon Skillet Cake

A simple, no-yeast snacking cake that puts the freeze-dried apples and cinnamon from the spice drawer to good use.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1 cake	15 min	40 min

INGREDIENTS

150 g	fresh-milled wheat flour
40 g	sugar
3 g	baking soda
6 g	cream of tartar
3 g	cinnamon
2 g	salt
10 g	freeze-dried egg powder
30 ml	warm water, for the egg
20 g	non-fat dry milk powder
150 ml	water, for the milk
15 g	butter powder
30 g	freeze-dried apples, roughly chopped and rehydrated
30 ml	warm water, for the apples

METHOD

- Rehydrate the apples
Combine chopped freeze-dried apples with 30 ml warm water and let sit 10 minutes.
- Reconstitute milk and egg
Whisk the milk powder into 150 ml water. In a separate bowl, whisk the egg powder with 30 ml warm water.
- Mix dry ingredients
Combine flour, sugar, baking soda, cream of tartar, cinnamon, and salt.
- Combine
Whisk the egg, milk, and dissolved butter powder together, then stir into the dry ingredients until just combined. Fold in the rehydrated apples.
- Bake
Pour into a greased skillet or pan and bake at 375°F/190°C for 25 minutes, until golden and set.
- Serve
Cool slightly before slicing.

CHEF'S TIP

This cake is deliberately not too sweet — drizzle with a little extra honey at the table if you want more.

Peanut Butter Energy Bites

No baking, no cooking — just a sturdy, portable snack that holds up well if you need something to carry with you.

SERVINGS1 batch (about 8 bites)*ACTIVE TIME*15 min*TOTAL TIME*15 min (plus resting)*INGREDIENTS

60 g powdered peanut butter

30 ml water, to loosen the peanut butter

50 g rolled oats

30 g honey

15 g freeze-dried strawberries or blueberries, crushed

METHOD1 Loosen the peanut butter

Whisk the powdered peanut butter with the water until smooth.

2 Mix

Stir in the honey until well combined, then fold in the oats and crushed berries until a sticky dough forms.

3 Shape

Roll into small balls.

4 Rest

Let rest 15 minutes to firm up before serving.

CHEF'S TIP

Wet your hands slightly before rolling — it keeps the sticky dough from clinging to your fingers instead of forming a ball.

Roasted Chickpea Snack

A crisp, savory snack that makes good use of the chickpeas beyond soups and stews.

SERVINGS

1

ACTIVE TIME

10 min

TOTAL TIME

35 min

INGREDIENTS

150 g chickpeas, cooked and patted dry

10 g coconut oil powder

1 splash water, to dissolve the coconut oil powder

3 g paprika

2 g salt

METHOD

1 Dry the chickpeas

Pat the cooked chickpeas as dry as possible with a clean cloth.

2 Season

Dissolve the coconut oil powder in a small splash of water, then toss with the chickpeas, paprika, and salt.

3 Roast

Spread on a pan and roast at 400°F/200°C for 25–30 minutes, shaking the pan occasionally, until crisp.

4 Cool

Let cool before serving — they crisp up further as they cool.

CHEF'S TIP

The drier the chickpeas going into the oven, the crisper they'll come out — don't rush the patting-dry step.

Savory Nutritional Yeast Crackers

A thin, crisp cracker that turns the nutritional yeast into a cheesy-tasting snack on its own, no dip required.

SERVINGS

1 batch

ACTIVE TIME

15 min

TOTAL TIME

30 min

INGREDIENTS

100 g fresh-milled wheat flour

15 g nutritional yeast

15 g butter powder

50 ml water, to dissolve the butter powder and form the dough

2 g salt

METHOD

- Mix
Combine flour, nutritional yeast, and salt. Work in the dissolved butter powder and enough water to form a firm dough.
- Roll
Roll the dough out very thin on a floured surface.
- Cut
Cut into squares and prick each one a few times with a fork.
- Bake
Bake at 375°F/190°C for 12–15 minutes until crisp and lightly golden.
- Cool
Cool completely — they continue to crisp as they cool.

CHEF'S TIP

Roll these thinner than feels right — they puff slightly in the oven, and a too-thick cracker ends up doughy in the middle.

Mocha Hot Cocoa

Two pantry staples that were never going to be used up any other way — milk powder and instant coffee, combined into something better than either alone.

SERVINGS

1

ACTIVE TIME

5 min

TOTAL TIME

5 min

INGREDIENTS

30 g non-fat dry milk powder

200 ml hot water

15 g sugar

3 g freeze-dried instant coffee

METHOD

1 Combine

Whisk the milk powder, sugar, and instant coffee into the hot water until fully dissolved and slightly frothy.

2 Serve

Serve warm.

CHEF'S TIP

A small pinch of salt sharpens the sweetness here more than it seems like it should — the same trick works in real hot chocolate.

Honey Vitamin-C Tonic

A warm, simple tonic for the days you want something soothing — and a good way to actually use the ascorbic acid crystals instead of forgetting they're in the pantry.

SERVINGS	ACTIVE TIME	TOTAL TIME
1	3 min	3 min

INGREDIENTS

250 ml	hot water (not boiling)
1 g	ascorbic acid (vitamin C) crystals
15 g	honey

METHOD

- Combine
Stir the ascorbic acid crystals and honey into the hot water until fully dissolved.
- Serve
Serve warm.

CHEF'S TIP

Use hot water, not boiling — very high heat isn't kind to vitamin C, so let the kettle sit a minute off the boil first.

About the Everstock 30-Day Supply

Every ingredient in this cookbook comes from the Everstock 30-Day / 1-Person Supply — a 25-year core pantry built around freeze-dried meat, fish, dairy, and produce, whole grains milled fresh, and a spice cabinet doing most of the work of "variety." Full quantities, nutrition breakdown, and shelf-life notes live in the companion Everstock spreadsheet.

These ten recipes are a starting point, not a limit — once you know how each ingredient rehydrates, the rest is just cooking.

This cookbook and the Everstock kit are a concept demonstration. Shelf-life figures assume proper mylar/oxygen-absorber or #10 can storage, cool and dark. Always inspect stored food before eating and use judgment around any item nearing the end of its rated shelf life.
